

Participations at International Conferences

Presentations of research papers at both international and local conferences or seminars are a common practice in institutions of higher education and research institutes throughout Malaysia. Preparation of research papers no doubt inculcates in depth investigations and encourages the advancement of a particular field. It is only via research can a particular knowledge be utilized to contribute to the advancement and improvement towards the quality of life in general.

As such, UniMAP too, has sent and endlessly encouraged its academicians to present their research papers at international conferences worldwide. UniMAP researchers are continuously encouraged to present their research papers not only in local conferences but also internationally whereby the impact from their findings are shared globally. Apart from that, UniMAP being a newcomer in the higher education arena views the opportunity to present research papers internationally as a medium to further promote its existence and its potential to compete with other institutions worldwide.

Yearly, UniMAP allocates a substantial amount of funding to send UniMAP researchers to present their research papers overseas. This effort is maximized when the research papers are accepted, published in high impact proceedings and listed in Scopus. At the same time, these researchers are also given the opportunity to not only meet and exchange intellectual views and opinions on certain issues but also find new avenues to conduct collaborative researches which is with no doubt a lucrative investment.

For the duration between Jan-Nov. 2010, 24 UniMAP researchers presented their research overseas. The majority of these researchers utilized their budget allocations to present their research papers from their own research grants. This number does not include participations at local international conferences and seminars. These 24 researchers are listed below:
